1. Heard both sides. I have perused the record. The record indicates that the Complainant has identified the applicants not only in the identification parade but also in the Court. The present applicants were found running away and the constable chased them in a rikshaw and apprehended them. The said constable is examined as PW-8 and the applicants were taken to the police station and certain articles belonging to the Complainant were seized from them. In the circumstances, it is clear that there is a lot of evidence against the present applicants. Advocate for the applicants sought to rely upon a slightly different version between the evidence of Constable PW-8 and PW-2 who was a rikshaw driver. These aspects can be considered at the stage of final hearing. Hence, bail application is rejected at this stage. Hearing of the appeal is expedited. Liberty to apply in case appeal is not heard within one year.
